

Use Blackboard gradebook settings to convert percentages to points

For many courses, the columns in the Blackboard gradebook are set with points as the primary display and none as the secondary display. To verify the current settings for a column, go to the gradebook, select the chevron (double arrows) after the column title, and choose “Edit Column Information.”

For Exam 1 in this particular course, the Primary Display is “Score” and the Secondary Display is “None.” The Category is “Test” and 200 points are possible.
